END OF A BIG WEEK

STATE FAIR AND POMPEH WERE BOTH SUCCESSFUL.

Finances of Both Attractions-Music Day a Strong Feature-Premiums and the Races.

The State fair has closed, and the week has proved a prosperous one all around. week's attractions-the fair and the "Last successes in another year. The low railroad rate was highly beneficial to the week's results, and the precedent has been set for a one-cent rate always at a time of the State fair. The people have learned sions into Indianapolis at an attractive and the managers of future public enterprises of this sort will forevermore insist on such treatment as was received during the fair of 1894. There was only one class that the railroads disappointed, and that was the shippers of stock. The reason that the exhibit of show horses was so small and the display of blooded swine so much reduced was the action of the traffic association, last January, in changing the rules so that horses shipped for exhibition purposes at fairs should no longer be returned as formerly, free to the point from which they were shipped, and the rate on hogs

President Sankey, in speaking of the fair last night, said: "It has been a decided success, both as an exhibit and in a financial point of view. The exhibits, with the ever seen in the country outside of the world's fair last year. The attendance has een highly satisfactory, both to the board and the people themselves. I believe the fair will show a balance of from $3,000 to

The receipts from the gates yesterday and the grand stand were nearly $9,000. Treasurer Robinson said last night that the total gate receipts for the week would reach $23,000, divided as to days as follows: Monday and Tuesday, $1,100; Wednesday, 2,100; Thursday, $9,965; Friday, $8,800. It will thus be seen that the crowd yesterday lacked over two thousand people of being as large as on Thursday. It seemed larger, in fact, because of the more crowd ed condition of the grand stand. The nuons to the grand stand yesterday was 5,500, as against 4,600 the day before, showing that the audience was somewhat different in composition and that there was an attraction that made a seat in the grand stand more desirable. The grand stand held more residents of Inliinapolis yesterday than it ever did at any previous time in its history. The large portion of the population which has little taste for horse racing was attracted by the excellent character of the musical and spec-tacular programme. The success of the Music day insures that it will henceforth be a regular feature of the State fair. Mr. Wiley, who had charge of the music the spectacle, said last night that he was sorry the races had to be started be fore the musical programme was finished and that in another year he would ask the poard to reserve one afternoon for the nusic, and either arrange for the races on another day or hour, or dispense with them altogether on Friday afternoon. The precedent of making one day of the fair a special day for the city is now es-tablished, and will be a regular thing hereand will be a regular thing heresome of the members believe, as no longer an off day in the fair, but one of its best and most profitable. Mr. McDonald said last night that the citizens of Indianapolis done a great deal towards making the success, and that there is never any doubt of success when the people of this city manifest enough interest in the fair to attend it. He thought that the net profits would reach $5,000.

The total receipts from all sources, entry fees, space sales and privileges will approach, it is believed, $35,000. The total exuses will reach about $30,000. The weather has been most favorable, in marked con-trast with 1893, when there was constant rain, and the gate receipts for the week did not exceed much over $10,000. comparison between last year and this pleases the board beyond measure. The most of them celebrated the event last night by going to see the Pompellan spec-tacle, some for the third or fourth time. POMPEIL'S FINANCES. The attendance at the spectacle last night was about 4,500. The receipts were $2,300. Mr. Gunckel, the representative of Mr. Pain, and Treasurer Robinson, of the citizen's committee, appeared at the Grand Hotel last night with the large tin money boxs in a carriage and in one hand Mr. Robinson held a revolver ready for use if any local Jesse James should yield to a temptation to possess the cash. The net amount in the treasury of the citizens' committe from this exhibition will be about $1,000. The total receipts were between $24,-000 and $25,000 and the share of the citithey will have some bills to pay but beside its net profit it will come out of the ven-ture with their plant paid for ready for use next year. The directors met last night to decide whether it was advisable to continue the spectacle into next week. Mr. Pain was willing that it should be kept intact for two exhibitions next week but the committee though that one Tuesday night was all that was feasible. It was finally decided that it was best to close down at once in a blaze of success rather than to let the interest be exhausted. There will therefore be no more exhibits of the "Last Days of Pompeii" in this city this year. The specialty artists will go to Springfield, Ill., where the Illinois State fair, on its new grounds, will occur, and the scenery will be shipped to Little Rock. The Pains say they will present some beautiful and novel war spectacles next year based on hattles of the civil war and year based on battles of the civil war and on a certain historical novel. During the cold weather of autumn they will establish their spectacles in the southern cities which have much later seasons. The number of people carried out by the street cars yesterday to the fair grounds was about 16,000, which showed a falling off from the day before. There was sufficient cars going out to the grounds dur-ing the day but at night, after the races, many had to wait a long time. There were not less than seven hundred people on the car platform at 6:45 o'clock and some had waited for two hours fearful to trust themselves to the crush as the cars wheeled along side. There were no accidents reported. As a whole the street car service is very much to be commended.

GREAT DAY FOR MUSIC.

An Inspiring Scene Was the March of the Nations. It was a happy thought on the part of the State fair management to provide such an entertainment for the last day of the fair

as they did yesterday. It was music day and the day was announced to begin at Awarded Highest Honors-World's Fair.

to be on the grounds for the first number. When people reached the grand stand at 11:45 there were hundreds of people already seated. From that time till after 3 o'clock they kept pouring in till every seat was taken and a great many were standing. It was announced that all carriages would be admitted free to the grounds and there was a border of carriages filled with people surrounding the space about the grand stand, while thousands stood for hours and hung on the fence around the race track. The bands and military companies arrived in order and out of order, the former being welcomed with cheers and applause from The programme began soon after 2 o'clock and was carried out as published. It was an inspiring scene, with thousands of peo-ple, carriages, umbrellas, to keep off the which appeared every few moments, gay dresses and ribbons, parti-colored para-sols and everything imaginable to give life and color to the whole. In front of the grand stand a large platform had been erected, where the several bands played. At the signal from Lem H. Wiley, who had charge of the arrangements, the companies formed for the march of nations, First, from the right, came a section of the Light Infantry, in the red coats, white breeches and high top boots of the English soldiery, leading Bellstedt's Cincinnati Band, playing "See, the Conquering Hero Comes." They marched to the front and formed one side of a square. Next, from the left, came the Weber Zouaves, representing the French, and the Second Regiment Band of Chicago, playing the "Mar-seillaise." They marched and took their position facing the English. Third, came the Germans, Company A, of the Indiana Legion, in the blue suits and flat white caps of the Teuton. They were led by the Ring-gold Band, of Terre Haute, playing "Die Wacht am Rhein" and lastly came the Light Infantry in regulation dress, led by the Indianapolis Military Band. The Infan-try made the last side of the square. The band was playing "Yankee Doodle," and at almost the first note the audience set up a rousing cheer. After the companies bad met they faced the center, where Mr. Wiley could direct the bands which, in unison played "America." One band took one verse and the second another, and for the finale all four played, the audience rising and joining in one verse. The people seemed to be afraid to sing, though there was some

Mr. Wiley played the solo cornet accompanying the bands. Then the massed bands played the "Chicago Tribune March," posed by W. P. Chambers. The officers commanding the military companies were H. T. Conde, for United States; Lieut. Albert Isensee, for Germany; Lieut. F. F. McCrea, for England, and Capt. Jacob Fox, for France. The march of nations was followed by concerts given by each of the bands, except the Ringgold Band, of Terre Haute, twenty-two instruments, Jacob conductor, which gave its two numbers, the "Finale of Act III, from by Wagner, arranged by Louis Pohle, and the "Selection from Gounod's

Faust," before the march The Cincinnati band's numbers were from Suppe, Verdi, Ganne and Bellstedt. Three of the six numbers were by the latter. Herman Bellstedt, jr., played a cornet solo, "Centennial Polka," which was written by him. The closing march, "Ah, There," also written by Mr. Belistedt. His playing is so well known here that to praise now would be superfluous. The Indianapolis Military Band, with thirty-six pieces, modestly gave two numbers only. These were an overture, "Morning, Noon and Night." by Suppe, and fantasle, "Champion," by Hartman, Mr. J. B. Cameron is the leader of the Military Band and solo cornetist as well. The Brooks Second Regiment Band, of Chicago, with Mr. Ellis, Brooks director, was the last to play. Its programme was long and varied, and the selections gave ample opportunity for some excellent band work, in which it did not disappoint. Its specialty is descriptive music, and of this t had three, "Overture to Robespierre," "Reminiscences of Scotland" and the "La Benediction des Poignards," the grand scene from "Les Huguenots." Other numbers were from Wagner, Godfrey, DeKoven, Lacombe and Gregh. When the concert closed a delighted though weary audience wended its way to the gates. Lem Wiley gave a cornet solo during the

At 1:30 the premium takers began to file into the secretary's room and to receive from the secretary the warrants for their prize money. About five hundred of these warrants had been issued and there was a continual stream of men and women passing through the room the entire afternoon. From the secretary's room the holders of these warrants passed across the hall to the treasurer's room where great stacks of gold and silver coins and greenbacks were being passed out in exchange for the paper signed by the secretary. The clerks in both offices were kept busy until a late hour and were not sorry

THE RACING PROGRAMME.

David B. Trots One Heat in 2:10 1-1-

The Results. The last day's racing programme began at 4 o'clock with the 2:13 trot, purse $800. There were six starters. Jack Sheppard drew the pole, but by no means set the pace in the first heat. He was off his feet almost to the wire in the first heat, and settled down clumsily to a pace that brought him in last and would have given him that position, except that Poem, who was crowded too hard to take the heat, broke and ran to the lead under the wire and was set back to sixth place. David B. William Penn was crowding him so hard that the latter's nose touched the line first. The heat was without other incident, and was trotted in 2:121/2.

The second heat went to David B., with William Penn again pressing him hard and Piletta not far behind. Hershell lost any chance he may have had to win by breaking after getting the word. The heat was made in 2:1014.

The third heat also went to David B. He had the pole by virtue of having won the second heat, and kept the advantage this gave him throughout the mile. He did not have an eighth of a second to spare, however, for William Penn, Piletta and Hershell were at his shoulder in a bunch. It was a pretty finish. The fourth heat and the race went to David B. It was a close decision for second place. Hershell and Piletta being neck and neck, and both crowding the winner. Summary: First Race-2:13 trot; purse, $800.

Lady Anderson drew the pole. The field started well in the fourth or fift scoring. Tommy Brown broke badly in the quarter, and barely came to his stride in time to save himself from th flag. The finish was a hot contest be-tween Dick Pennell, Morelia and Belle West, resulting in Pennell taking the heat. Time, 2:1314. The second heat went to New Era without incident. In the third heat New Era and Cantab had it neck and neck nearly to the third post, when New Era broke Cantab held a lead of two lengths until coming down the home stretch. He broke, however, and went under the wire in a run. Belle West came in second under the whip and Morelia third. The judges, how-ever, decided to give Cantab the heat. Time, 2:171/2. The fourth heat was paced in the twilight, and if it had any incidents it was too dark to see them. It was a disappointment to Cantab's driver, who evidently had the race. The owner of Morelia wanted to draw his mare on account of having to leave for Tiffin. O., and he offered to give the fourth money, which was already his as the score stood, to the owner of Tommy Brown if the latter would permit the score as it was to decide the race. But the owner of Tommy Brown said that his horse could win the race to-day, and refused all offers of settlement, except on the track. The race was therefore postponed until to-day at 9:30 o'clock

Jewell won the seventh heat and the race n the unfinished 2:14 pace of Thursday, which was pulled off yesterday morning. The pole fell to him by reason of his winning the previous heat, and he took the lead, holding it without trouble. The time 2:1014, which was accounted remarkable for so young a performer, and it marked him for future honors. Merry Chimes was distanced, and lost her chance for any part of the money. The first money went to Jewell, the second to Black Dick, the third to Lottie Lorraine and the fourth to Jack Jewett. Great Heart was distanced and Syrena, Laurel, Nellie F. and Indianapolis Boy were drawn.

The other postponed race went to Brookde in four heats, he taking the last three. Vistigle caused something of a sensation by manifesting a disposition to turn into the fence after passing the wire. He was driven to the outside of the track in the numerous scorings, and when at last the word was given he concluded that he would make for the fence again and would not make the turn of the track. But when he did strike his stride he made a spurt of speed that carried away the breath of the crowd, and from a position in which he seemed bound to be distanced he pulled out and came in second close behind Brookside. That effort, however, spended him. Sum-

The W. C. T. U. Dinner. The W. C. T. U., which has been conducting a restaurant at the fair, yesterday entertained the members of the board and their wives and families at dinner. Ex-Governor Porter was one of the guests, and after the dinner he was called upon for a speech. He spoke with felicitation at the success of the fair and of the influence of the Pompeiian spectacle in drawing strangers to the city. He then related some

DISMISSED IN DISGRACE.

Austria's Consul-General to New York Charged with Serious Offenses.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.-Private cablegrams received here from Vienna announce that Dr. Anton von Palitschke, late consul-general to the United States, located at New York, has been dismissed in disgrace from the consular service of the Austro-Hungarian empire. While acting as imperial and royal commissioner the ex-consul is said to have compelled Austrian exhibitors to pay for their space in Manufactures' Hall It was also charged, in addition to this, that he had embezzled $15,000 bequeathed to three hospitals by a rich Hungarian who died in New York. This Hungarian, John Russoits, was a friend of Louis Kossuth, and, it is said, left a fortune of $5,000,000. Those charges, the cablegram says, caused the ex-consul's dismissal and disgrace.

Eczema, Turning to Blood Poison. Treated by Specialists Seven Months without One Particle of Success.

BODY RUNNING SORES. Condition Terrible. Life a Burdet. Tried GUTICURA. In Three Days At-

touds to Business. Cure Permanent. In the spring of 1891 I took that dreadful skin disease, Eczema, which terned into blood person. consulted the best known specialists in this city. They treated me for seven months but I never derived a particle of good from any of them. They had given it up as a hopeless cure. I was covered with sores from head to foot: I had running sores all over me, some of them as large as a box of your CUTICURA. It cost me bundreds of dollars with these socalled specialists. My condition was terrible to me. I could not eat, drink, or sleep. I was unable to walk and had given myself up as dead. I tried all medicines imaginable, until a friend who had got relief advised me to try CUTICURA

REMEDIES. I sent out and got them, and when I took the first dose of your CUTICURA RESOLVENT I felt a little better; with three boxes of your most valuable CUTICURA and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT I was a new man. In three days I was up walking around and attending to my business, and it is the CUTICURA and CUTICURA RESOLVENT that saved me from the laws of death. This is two years ago. I wanted to see if it had been driven out of my system, and I can say I have never had any trouble since GEO. F. BRIGHT. for two years. GEO. F. BRIGHT, 2925 Penn. Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.
